

Warren County Historical Society

210 Fourth Avenue

Warren, Pennsylvania 16365

(814)723-1795

www.warrenhistory.org

www.facebook.com/warrenhistory

Featuring
Bairstow Studio Photographs

Water and Hickory Streets, Warren, Pa., circa 1862

Water Street was renamed Pennsylvania Avenue circa 1903

Carver House — 402-404 Water Street — West of Hickory Street

Citizens National Bank — 400 Water Street — East of Hickory Street

*Warren County Fair on the South Side of Warren, 1894
Below: Judging cattle on the race track at the fair*

*Warren County Fair on the South Side of Warren, 1894
Bairstow Photo Album—Warren County Historical Society Archives*

Bairstow Photography Studio

BAIRSTOW,
Artistical Photographer,
WARREN, PA.
Over 340 Water Street,

Advertisement from the 1886 Warren County Directory

*James R. Bairstow
Founder of Bairstow Studio*

In 1873, James R. Bairstow opened the Bairstow Studio at 340 Water Street in Warren.

During the Spanish-American War, David F. Bairstow entered the photographic business with his father James.

In 1917, during WWI, the studio was moved to 219 Liberty Street in Warren.

In 1961, David F. Bairstow passed the family business on to his son James Robert Bairstow.

The Warren County Historical Society Bairstow Collection consists of photographs, negatives, glass plate negatives, and tin types dating back to Civil War times.

David F. Bairstow—Taken 1913

Old Exchange Block — Water Street, Warren — circa 1881

C. Schwing Eating Saloon — 321 Water Street

Below: Exchange Block further west

Note in both images: Ames & Leonhart Saddle & Harness Shop

Above: building the Suspension Bridge — 1871
Below: building the Hickory Street Bridge — 1916-17
Note: Suspension Bridge on left

Suspension Bridge & Hickory Street Bridge — 1918

Third Street, Warren Swinging Bridge — 1904

Created by Managing Director Michelle Gray — 2018